Rule 7. Oral Argument

- (a) Oral Advocates. Each side shall have thirty (30) minutes to present its argument. The first advocate for Petitioner may reserve up to three (3) minutes of either advocate's time for rebuttal, which may be argued by either team member. Teams must notify both the timekeeper and the judges if they are reserving time for rebuttal. If a team notifies the timekeeper, but fails to request rebuttal from the judges, its time will default to fifteen (15) minutes per advocate. All advocates will receive a five (5) minute and a one (1) minute warning during oral argument.
- (b) Rounds. There will be three (3) preliminary rounds of oral argument, during which each team will argue at least once as Petitioner and at least once as Respondent. The eight (8) teams advancing to the quarter-final rounds will be seeded according to their preliminary round scores with one facing eight, two facing seven, three facing six, and four facing five, unless doing so would require teams that met in a preliminary round to compete against each other again. In which case, the Moot Court Board will seed the quarter-finalists at its discretion. The winner of each of the four quarter-final rounds will advance to the semi-final round.

The four (4) teams advancing to the semi-final rounds will be seeded according to their quarter-final round scores with one facing four, and two facing three, unless doing so would require teams that met in a previous round to compete against each other again. In which case, the Moot Court Board will seed the semi-finalists at its discretion.

The winning team in each of the two semi-final rounds will advance to the final round.

In the event of a tie, the team with the higher brief score will be deemed the winner of the round.

- (c) Conduct. Only two team members shall sit at the counsel table and participate in a round. The two team members may confer with each other, but no outside counseling, including from alternates or coaches, shall be permitted. A violation of this rule will result in a ten (10) point deduction from the overall oral scores of both participants.
